FRONT END DEVELOPER

About Me

As a highly motivated and independent self-learner, I have consistently demonstrated the ability to quickly pick up new skills and technologies. With excellent communication skills and a strong team player mindset, I have been able to effectively collaborate with others to deliver high-quality projects.

As a front-end developer at Vii-Events, a fast-growing startup company, I was able to demonstrate my abilities by building dynamic web-based applications using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. I also took the initiative to further improve my skills by learning Angular, which allowed me to build even more complex applications such as a file manager and task manager.

In addition to my professional experience, I am also a proud father to twin-mix children. I understand the importance of balancing my personal and professional responsibilities and am dedicated to delivering my best work at all times.
